"The search and reporting tool that TSUs have been waiting for"

Gordon Moore - Ovation systems

The specialist video devices used by covert surveillance teams help intelligence agencies prevent crime and prosecute criminals, but reviewing the video footage requires substantial human effort.

Kinesense CovertSuite™ is the search and reporting tool intelligence agencies have been waiting for. It enables investigators to immediately find the events that matter, using advanced video analytics that scan large volumes of footage easily and quickly. Kinesense CovertSuite™ imports and processes up to a week of footage in a single batch, with digital frame signatures and timestamp detection that allow footage to be automatically assembled into a timeline.
